LOCAL NEWS BRIEFS

Putnam County library patrons can view 'The Nutcracker'

Putnam County library patrons will get an opportunity to view "The Nutcracker" from home.

A recorded virtual performance of Tchaikovsky's "The Nutcracker" performed by the U.K.'s internationally renowned Royal Ballet will be available to patrons. The ballet can be viewed Saturday, Dec. 16, and Sunday, Dec. 17. Registrants will receive an email with a special link to the performance. For a Zoom link, visit putnamcountylibrary.org.

Master Gardeners to host Gathered Treasures workshop

University of Illinois Extension Marshall-Putnam Master Gardeners, along with Marshall-Putnam 4-H, will host a Gathered Treasures workshop Saturday, Dec. 16.

Learn how to make a beautiful holiday centerpiece. The workshop is open from 9 to 10 a.m. for 4-H members and their families. The workshop will be open to the public from 10 to 11 a.m. at 509 Front St., Henry.

There is no charge for this workshop, but registration is required, to ensure organizers have plenty of supplies. To register, call 309-364-2356.
