p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 18.

When you hear about June Carter Cash, there is one additional person that comes to mind – her famous husband, Johnny Cash. June Carter Cash, portrayed by historical presenter, Michelle Gibbons, will discuss her unconditional love and admiration for Johnny Cash. With her charm, determination and grace, June Carter Cash will explain how she helped Johnny Cash to “Walk The Line” and how she wrote and performed “Ring of Fire,” one of Johnny’s greatest hits.

Additionally, the library will host another program – this one will be about Cuba.

Discover America’s next-door neighbor at 12:30 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 20. Explore the food, culture, government and the people in this unique island. Named Cuba from the Taino Language means “Great Place” or where fertile land is abundant. Mark Walczynski will be presenting this program.

Series aims to empower farmers to implement sustainable agriculture

University of Illinois Extension will host a program series this winter about sustainable agriculture.

Sustainability on the Farm is a series of educational programs designed to empower farmers and landowners with the knowledge and tools to implement sustainable agricultural practices on their land. The program will delve into topics providing participants with practical insights and strategies to enhance their operations while minimizing environmental impact.

Each session will be hosted by local industry experts from organizations such as The Wetlands Initiative, Pheasants Forever and Quail Forever and American Farmland Trust.

The next meeting on Thursday, Feb. 6, at the Bureau County Extension Office will discuss how farmers and landowners can incorporate wildlife habitat into existing farmland. The session will be led by Caleb Worley, farm bill biologist with Pheasants Forever and Quail Forever.

The program schedule includes:
Wildlife habitat: 10 to 11 a.m. Thursday, Feb. 6, at Bureau County Extension Office Conservation tillage: 10 to 11 a.m. Thursday, Feb. 20, at Bureau County Extension Office

Edge of field practices: 10 to 11 a.m.

Thursday, March 6, at Illinois Valley Community College

Cost share programs: 10 to 11 a.m. Thursday, March 20, at Marshall-Putnam Extension Office

Register online at go.illinois.edu/SustainableFarms.

If you need an accommodation to participate, contact Emily Hansen at emhansen@illinois.edu or 815-224-0896. Early requests are encouraged to allow sufficient time to meet access needs.
